The Blocksize Boilerplate

Blocksize is a Germany-based DeFi infrastructure provider trusted by financial institutions.
We bridge the gap between the financial services industry and blockchain ecosystems by securing protocols and enabling institutional-grade access to DeFi.
Since 2018, we've been strengthening DeFi at every layer — operating our own validators, delivering real-time crypto data, and allowing anyone to participate in network security through delegated staking.